PROPERTY OVERVIEW

RIDC and Redevelopment Authority of Allegheny County have partnered to redevelop the historic Carrie Furnace site located in Rankin Borough within Pittsburgh's Mon Valley. The development will be home to technology, biotech, R&D, light industrial, and other commercial enterprises.

The initial phase of construction, completed in 2024, consisted of site infrastructure, access roadways, and the core & shell of a prime, 60,000 SF tech/flex building. Long term plans for the park include the accommodation of 550,000 SF of construction.

ABOUT THE PARTNERS

RIDC is a private non-profit which catalyzes and supports economic growth and high-quality job creation through real estate development and the financing of projects that advance the public interest.

Redevelopment Authority of Allegheny County (RAAC) assists with the generation, stimulation, and management of economic and community growth through acquisition, preparation, and reuse of real estate.
